ATHLETIC INTEREST INCREASES

Fairmount College Secures a Physical Director.

Athletics in Wichita, for some time have been an uncertain quantity. Since the active movement taken in the athletic direction by the school of the city, more interest than ever before has been shown in college sports.

The college have just opened for their year's work and many students have enrolled. All of Wichita's schools are contemplating making a series of athletic and for the game of the year will have football teams in the field.

Perhaps for the first time in its history Fairmount has procured a physical director for its students. The man is Harry H. Hess, formerly of the state university, and in the capacity of director will have charge of the Fairmount team for the football season. Games have been arranged and active work commenced on the gridiron. The Fairmount team heretofore has had a hard time to exist, but the prospects are much brighter this year.

Last year the Fairmount team played five games. In the first game, with Wellington, they were defeated. This proved quite an unpleasant sensation among the student enthusiasts of that institution, but after a day or two the boys pulled themselves together, looked the cold, unimpassioned world in the face, made a careful inventory of the shortcomings of the team, then quietly went to work. As a result of this effort more defeats were recorded against the team.

But the work began last year had further results. It developed spirit of corps and enthusiasm. Instead of beginning to plan for the football campaign in September or October, as heretofore, the enthusiasts began the work of interesting good men in Fairmount college and in the Fairmount football team during the vacation. As a result Fairmount has a splendid showing in material which, if properly coached, will make football stuff that will be hard to beat. Coach Hess expressed himself as highly pleased with the prospect and reports twenty men as candidates for the first team.

Mr. C. C. Isely, a member of the junior class, is the manager and is vigorously pushing the interests of the team. The team began its first practice Thursday afternoon. Several dates have already been secured, the first game being played at Newton October 2.

The following of last year's team are among the present candidates: Ross, Graham, Foster, Herrick, Morrison, Isely, Jordan and Bostick.

Of the senior men who will try for a place on the team three most prominent at present are: Davis and Tompkins of Clearwater, Johnson of Kinsman, Lightner of this city, Hugh Foster of Elmer, James Terry, Hawthorn, Smith of Newkirk, O. T. Nelson of Udell.

New suits have been ordered, shower bath in process of construction for the use of the team and the covers of good, mainly athletics in Wichita, are being worn and enjoyed up-to-date, scientific football.

An attraction sure to please the Wichita Lyceum goes is the Old-Time Jubilee. The Lyceum is one of the attractions of special merit which has been secured by the Lyceum management. Their troupe is composed of ten artists actually from abroad. This company has made a decided hit wherever they have been and will be a novelty to Wichita audiences.

The Lyceum troupe, which are all-around entertainers, will be one of the first features of the attractions. The people appear in their native costume and this always lends a charm to the entertainment which it would be impossible to otherwise have.

TALENT IS BOOKED

Wichita Lyceum Course Will Have Ten Attractions.

AUDITORIUM IS ENGAGED

List Is Composed of Entertainers of High Merit.

The last attraction for the Wichita Lyceum course for the coming season was booked yesterday by Manager Orville A. Boyle. The attractions for the course number ten and the opening entertainment will be early next month.

The attractions for this year are the best that can be secured and probably more money than ever before in the history of the course has been spent for the talent.

The entertainments will be given as heretofore, in the Auditorium. This building is now being repaired and will be in splendid shape by the time of the opening entertainment. The seats will be replaced by comfortable chairs.

Manager Boyle states that the calls for tickets even at this time of the season are more numerous than at any time in the history of the Lyceum course. The price for the season's entertainment will be the same as that of last year and the same method as to the seats will be used. The sale of the seats will commence within the next ten days and the play will be open at that time.

Probably one of the best attractions of the course, and undoubtedly the hardest one to contract for, is Dr. F. W. Gun-saulus of Chicago, who is to lecture here on the subject "Savannah." Mr. Boyle has been trying for three years past to get Dr. Gun-saulus, but until this year has never succeeded in getting favorable replies as to his coming west. Dr. Gun-saulus has written that he will be here during the fall and will give his celebrated lecture.

The Quaker Male Quartette of Philadelphia, is an attraction which has an enviable reputation among the entertainers of the country. The quartette is one of the oldest organizations traveling and has pleased many large audiences in the east. It is a noticeable fact that Wichita people in general admire quartette music and in this respect they will not be disappointed in the Quaker company. Mr. N. Baker, who is a member of the organization, is also a comedian as well as a singer, and will give impersonations in costume.

Dr. Sam P. Jones of Georgia, is to give one of his unique lectures here some time during the early part of the course. His subject has not yet been selected, but Wichita people can be assured that his lecture will be most interesting. A great many people have requested the management to bring the splendid orator here to give one of his lectures.

Lyceum ticket holders who attended the recent given by that splendid basso, Mr. Ernest Gamble, last season, will remember him. He is considered a matchless bass singer, and this season heads his own company, with Madam Eppinger-hausen Bailey as soprano. She is known as the Southern Nightingale. Three other members support these people and the company will give one of the finest musical entertainments ever given in the city.

Byron W. King of Pittsburgh, president of the King School of Oratory, is to give his most popular lecture, "All the World's a Stage." Mr. King has a fine reputation as an orator and public speaker. A number of the Lyceum patrons heard Mr. King at Topeka last year and all have words of praise for him.

Mr. King has a number of fine lectures which never fail to please, but the one on the subject just mentioned is considered the strongest he gives.

The Fadette Woman's Orchestra of Boston, by far the best orchestra composed of ladies traveling on the road, will appear on the Lyceum course. Mrs. Cora Fadette is the first pianist, Thursday afternoon. Several dates have already been secured, the first game being played at Newton October 2.

The following of last year's team are among the present candidates: Ross, Graham, Foster, Herrick, Morrison, Isely, Jordan and Bostick.

frequently can that this great Wichita institution is growing rapidly in business. The special brands of meat, made by Doid are becoming famous. Even his Empire State boiled ham is having a great run and the demand is extending into Texas and Colorado. If this thing continues the Doid packing house in this city will have to be greatly enlarged.

Yesterday a carload of White Clover seed was sent out on an order from far off Liverpool. Even the people of old England have learned of the superior pork products turned out at Wichita. The demand for Doid Perfection bacon has become so great that big carloads of green sides are almost daily received from Kansas City packers. They are cured in Doid's sweet pickle and sent out to the trade. Doid is constantly increasing the capacity of the great packing house here by adding more and better machinery. Only yesterday Manager Fred Doid ordered a new steel pickle tank from St. Louis. It will be 4 feet long and 2 feet wide and will hold 100,000 pounds of sweet pickle. It will be fitted with filter attachments that will remove all foreign substances from the pickle. The filtering attachment is made of carbonized bone, which is the best made for that purpose. The tank is also fitted with ammonia pipes for regulating the temperature of the pickle and when put in place will be one of the best tanks ever brought to this city. It will come in sections and Wichita workmen will put it up.

Fred Doid spares no expense in improving the Wichita plant. The house tried the experiment of making the best most cured Doid's sweet pickle and when put in place will be one of the best tanks ever brought to this city. It will come in sections and Wichita workmen will put it up.

The parade will start two blocks north of the court house on Main street at 10:30 a. m., thence down Main street to Douglas avenue; thence east on Douglas avenue to Fifth, where the premiums will be awarded, and everything for sale will go to the different markets.

The parade is independent from the agricultural and horticultural display of the street fair, and was got up to show the products of the farm, orchard and garden, as there would not be room to show everything on the street south of Douglas avenue.

Besides the premiums offered for exhibits by the street fair association the following special premiums are offered in the street parade:

The Union Stock Tards company, for the best load of hogs for breeding purposes, will pay $10 premium.

Paugh & Co., live stock commission merchants, will pay $10 premium for the best load of Poland China hogs, ready for market, and sell them for the highest price, free of commission.

E. J. Healy & Co. will pay $10 premium for the best load of Berkshire hogs, or any other mixed breed of market hogs.

E. B. Jewett, assistant postmaster, will pay $10 premium for the second best load of market hogs in the parade.

The O. Z. Smith Realty company will pay $10 for the twenty bushels of the best corn in the parade.

George Innes & Co., dry goods merchants, will make a fine winter jacket to the lady making the best display of canned fruits and jellies in the agricultural department of the street fair.

Rough Riders Drill Causes Favorable Comment

In spite of the storm of last Friday night there was quite a good attendance at the first drill of the Republican Rough Riders Troupe, and those who were present were highly pleased at the novelty of the horseback drill, as it is entirely new to even those who are well drilled on foot. Many of the men were from the country and most enthusiastic prevailed, and it is now the intention to form a battalion, as there are already two many enrolled for one troop and as the presidency of the men increases the citizens are pronounced a fine display by way of drill.

The next drill takes place Monday at 1:45 sharp, and the troops will meet at headquarters Central avenue, between Main and Market. Every member of the organization is expected to be present, mounted, and if possible to bring every one mounted so that the two troops may be organized.

ORDINANCE NOT CHANGED

Some Question Concerning Riding on Sidewalk

There seems to be an apprehension as to the provisions of the city ordinance concerning bicycles. The original ordinance stands as it was originally passed by the city council, without amendment or modification. It permits bicycle riders to use the sidewalks when the streets are impassable by reason of mud or other causes, and the prevalent opinion that riders cannot use the sidewalks under any and all circumstances is unfounded. In fact, the ordinance is as liberal as will be found in any of our large cities and there is no just complaint as to its provisions.

Tom Irwin, former secretary of the Wichita school board, arrived in the city yesterday to spend a few days. Mr. Irwin, since leaving here, has attended the Lane Seminary at Cincinnati, Ohio. Since that time Mr. Irwin has been preaching for McKay. McKay got up and said: "I don't think you want to hear from me."

The cries continued. Then Judge McKay got up, it is said, and peeled the Democratic party. A Democratic speaker had just said that the reform forces must all get together. McKay said that he had watched the Democratic party for years. He never knew of it reforming anything. He did not believe it would ever reform anything. He paid his respects to the Democrats in this district, on the state ticket, and finally he wound up on Bryan.

He said that imperialism was not a Populist issue. It was Democratic. He said that the Populist party had been applauded. He said that the Populist party had for its issues economic questions. Bryan, he said, had side tracked these to please the eastern Democrats in order to get them to vote for him. They would not vote for him otherwise. "He is not working for us Populists any more. He is working with Democracy. He is going about over the country setting up the straw man of imperialism and knocking it down again."

The Populists applauded McKay while the Democrats looked all kinds of weariness and disgust. It is said that none of the former leaders here believe that Duval was a ghost of a show. But that is not what is worrying them. They know that Campbell is receiving letters; that the revolt among the Populists is on, and that the trouble is creeping down to the fusion county tickets and is tearing things all to pieces.
